How do you know your governing board is making a difference?

Governors are meant to have 'impact'. But do they? How do you tell? This is one of the key questions against which governing boards are held to account, but answering it, with solid evidence, is notoriously difficult.

Gillian Allcroft, Deputy Chief Executive of the National Governance Association, will talk to us at this event about this important subject. You'll struggle to find a more knowledgeable and authoritative source than the NGA. Come and share your views with Gillian and your fellow school leaders. The Inspector will expect you to know.

It will be helpful if you can let us know if you are coming. Email us at admin@bucksgovassoc.co.uk.

AGM

The BASG AGM will follow afterwards. It won't take long.
